

Harvest Moon Angoras Sales Agreement

Read and initial each section.

Reservations and Waiting Lists I will usually put a litter up for reservation by two weeks of age. The first people to get back to me (people who have been waiting longest will be given a three day grace period within which to respond in order to retain their place in line) will then be first on the waiting list for that litter. They will be first to choose (when the kits are old enough) from the available rabbits in the litter.

Hybrid and Purebred kits will usually be ready to go to their new homes between eight and twelve weeks. I will sometimes want to reserve the litter or a couple of kits a little longer to decide on my pick. Any adult or bred animals will be previously named on the pedigree. I name the kits in purebred litters, but leave the naming of most hybrid kits up to their new family.

Once you contact me to reserve a bunny, I will post on my website Reserved for ___ pending deposit under your reserved bunny. Your place in line will be retained for two weeks during which time I must receive a $ 50 deposit (per rabbit) and a signed copy of this sales policy. If I don't receive the deposit within the two weeks, then your spot is given to the next person on the waiting list.

When I receive the deposit, a rabbit will then be on hold in your name Reserved for ___. If you change your mind before the expected/agreed upon pick up date, I will either return the refundable part of the deposit, or hold it for a comparable as you prefer. (Separate rules apply to shipping... see shipping section on Bunnies For Sale Page). If you are unwilling or unable to drive to the Eugene, Oregon area, then do not place a reservation. The deposit is required to assure serious intention, and willingness to pick up the rabbit during the agreed upon time frame. Thus $30 of the deposit per rabbit is NON-refundable.

IT IS THE PURCHASER'S RESPONSIBILITY TO ARRANGE TIMELY TRANSPORT. If you don't arrange to pick up the rabbit within two weeks of the reservation or availability date of the rabbit, I will start charging for feed and care out of the deposit ($2.00/week). The rest of the deposit allows ten more days to pick up the rabbit, or make other

	arrangements with me. If this does not occur within the ten day period, I will then put the rabbit back up as available for sale. I will not charge this fee for rabbits under three months old. Once they are over three months old, the above will apply.
	I reserve the right to change my mind on any reservation, and decide to keep a reserved animal, or hold it for observation. In this instance only, the deposit is fully refundable or transferrable to another comparable rabbit (as available).
	I agree to have a sturdy home already prepared: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> -water bottle/dispenser -non-tip-able feed dish -minimum 6' square cage space - floor wire of 1" x 1/2" openings, no larger or smaller, or frequently cleaned tray used by a house-trained rabbit -sheltered and protected from animals, heat, sun, rain and wind

I have read and initialed each section above, of the Harvest Moon Angoras Sales Policy. By sending in my deposit and this signed document, I am agreeing to the terms of the policy.
